Time: ~20 minutes

Players: 3-5

Ages: 10+

Game Setting

In another world where devils exist, the leaders from each political party assemble for an election campaign to determine their next president. The campaign is a struggle where the party leaders must display their wealth, military power, and intelligence in order to win the support of the people, and prove they are the most qualified to be president.

However, the people won't blindly follow anyone with power, so each week the candidates announce and fulfill a new pledge. Occasionally, the party leaders may have to resort to the forbidden Devil's Power for assistance.

When the campaigning is over, which party leader will gather the most popular support and become the next president of their country?

How to Play Tricks [MUST FOLLOW]

The first player to play a card is the “lead”, and the color of that card is the “lead suit”. Each player after the first must play a card matching the lead suit if possible. If they do not have any cards of that suit, they may play any card they like.

Priest Cards

Can be played any time, regardless of Must Follow.

Has no suit, if it is the lead card then the next player can play any card, until the first non-Priest card determines the lead suit.

Strength of Played Cards

Black > Lead Suit > Other Suits > White

For cards of the same suit, the higher number is stronger.

White is the weakest suit, but wins if any black card was played.

In case of a tie, the card played FIRST is stronger.

Government Pledge Card

You can make a contract by placing a Life Gem in a square. You may place multiple Life Gems in the same square, or split them up.

If the contract is fulfilled, you gain Popular Support Gems as indicated on the card.

If the contract is not fulfilled, you lose the Life Gems you placed.

You are required to make at least 1 contract each week.

Examples of contract scoring:

Your Government Pledge Card scores 1/3/5 points.

You place 3 Life Gems to make 3 different contracts.

If you fulfill all of them, you get 5 points.

If you fulfill only one, you get 1 point.

If you fulfill two contracts, you get 3 points.

Your Government Pledge Card scores 2/4/6 points.

You place 2 Life Gems on the same square.

If you fulfill this contract, you get 4 points.
